Oct. 7 - Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks

Rabbi Lord Sacks is an international religious leader, philosopher, award-winning author and respected moral voice. He was granted a seat in the British House of Lords in 2009 and was the winner of the 2016 Templeton Prize. We will watch one of his recent talks and then discuss.

Oct. 14 - Pastor June Joplin

Pastor June Joplin came out as trans in a June sermon to her Baptist church in Mississauga, Ont. To her disappointment, the church membership voted (within a narrow margin) to dismiss her. She has since been invited to guest preach at various churches in Canada and the US. She will join us to watch and discuss her sermon "What God Is - And Isn't."

Oct. 21 - Revolutionary Love: Rev. Jacquie Lewis

The Rev. Dr. Jacquie Lewis is Senior Minister of Middle Collegiate Church in the East Village of NYC. Jacquie and her multiracial, fully inclusive congregation work for racial, economic and LGBTQ/gender justice as part of their ministry to heal souls and the world.

Oct. 28 - James Aitchison from Islington United Currently studying for his Masters of Divinity at Emmanuel College, James is excited about the journey ahead, though he remains committed to the spiritual practice of presence along the way. He has been fortunate to travel a lot and translates lessons from the road into his life and work.
